If your site was installed automatically, a couple of default user accounts were created which allow site management features offered by the application. In this case, please take note of the following:

Administrator Login:

Username: admin
Password: dnnadmin

* The Administrator account is a privileged user account which allows you to manage various aspects of the site. Once you login as the Administrator, an Admin menu option will be visible in the site navigation. Please note that once you login to the site using this account, you will be prompted to enter a new password for security.

Host Login:

Username: host
Password: dnnhost

* The Host account is a highly privileged user account which allows you to manage various aspects of the site environment. Once you login as the Host, a Host menu option will be visible in the site navigation. Please note that once you login to the site using this account, you will be prompted to enter a new password for security.

With Knowledge comes Wisdom and

If you look at most of the worlds most successful people - BILLIONAIRES - the ones who built their own... straight A students at school, and many did not complete University Degrees, they were far too restless...

It's easy to look at them and say "Oh, they were just LUCKY!"

If you look at Bill Gates (Microsoft) and Steve Jobs (Apple/iCon), you will see that, (in the 70's), they w... – along with many thousands of other people, who did not succeed.
